Maximum match point differential

A team will receive no more than 60 (+/-) differential points for a match win in the divisional standings. The 60-point differential will be determined from the losing team's final score.

Examples: a 72-0 match would count as a 60-0 match (60 pt max differential); an 80-50 game would count as an 80-50 game (only 30 point difference); a 90-25 win would count as an 85-25 win (60 point max).

This does not mean that matches will be halted after a 60 pt differential has been reached; play may continue at the discretion of the referee due to safety issues. This rule only applies to the administrative league standings and not to the actual match.

Points System

During the League season, teams will be ranked within their Divisions as follows, based on the original method used in the Super 12 competition:

Win = 4 points

Draw = 2 points (a game tied at the end of regulation time will remain tied)

Loss = 1 point for loss within 7 points or less of the team that wins

Loss = 0 points for loss of more than 7 points

1 point for scoring 4 tries or more in a match

In the event of a forfeit, the score will be considered 60-0 (regional standard) and, in terms of points, 4 for the win and 1 pt for 4 trys or more (total of 5 points for a forfeit win) and 8 trys scored.

In the event of a tie on Super 12 points, the tie-breaker will be point differential.
